HEALTHCARE CALIFORNIA PRESIDENT DIVESTS OWNERSHIP IN HOME MEDICAL EQUIPMENT COMPANY

HealthCare California has announced that Dr. Harry G. Harris, President, has fully divested his investment and ownership in MedSupply, a Fresno-based home medical equipment company. Dr. Harris opened MedSupply in December 2005 as its founder and majority owner-investor. HealthCare California and MedSupply now operate as individual enterprises with separate management and ownership. There are no strategic alliances or relationships between the two companies.

In announcing the sale and divestiture, Dr. Harris stated he is primarily focusing his attention, energies and resources on HealthCare California's continuing expansion in central California. In addition, Dr. Harris is working with his management team to meet the many ongoing challenges related to the dynamic national health care reform movement.

At present, the company's service area extends from Merced to Porterville. With a fleet of 12 GREEN vehicles, the HealthCare California clinical team of nurses and specialty therapists provide patients with timely and exceptional health services under the care of a physician.

HealthCare California works cooperatively with other health care providers, such as home medical equipment companies and home care agencies, to provide patient access to quality health care.
